Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator."

"A makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system."
He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes then only other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is sedom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are atoms the leading in diseases of the remedial agent of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with aleucorness: the remedial agent of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and introductive organs of women; constant sensation of neat in the region of the kidneys; membrihasid iffooding, due to a weak-end conduction of the reproductive systems amenor for early upbressed or absent monthly periods, Absilia, "from or accompanying an abnormal conduction of the diseasive organs and stems of the in bood habit; dragging an abnormal conduction of the abodition." Why We Are Stronger.

The old Greeks and Romans were great admirers of health and strength; their pictures and statuary made the muscles of the men stand out like fine strength making food such as Quaker Oats-that would win in any contest with the old Roman or Greek

It's a matter of food. The finest food for making strength of bone, muscle and nerve is fine oatmeal. Quaker Oats is the best because it is pure, no husks or stems or black specks. Farmers' wives are finding that by feeding the farm hands plentifully on Quaker Oats they get the best results in work and economy. If you live in a hot climate buy Quaker Oats in hermetically sealed tins. It keeps sweet and fresh.

St. Louis Centennial

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—His Mysterious Majesty, the Veiled Prophet, will this year crown his queen in a new palace. The Merchants' Exphange, large enough in previous years to accommodate the guests of this queer old man, has been abandoned for the recently completed collecum. The real reason for the removal of the Veiled Prophet to larger quarters is said to be the lengthening of his invitation list by the addition of the mayors of 1,000 or more cities, who are coming at the invitation of the mayor of St Louis, to participate in the festivities of centennial week, October 3rd to 9th, inclusive.

Each mayor accepting Mayor Kreis-

United States to adopt the style of carnival which burlesques the monarchicl plan of government. A shroud of mystery surrounds the Veiled Prophet and his retinue. The general public nover knows the name of the prophet nor the name of his follow-Every member of this mysterious organization is pledged not to reveal his or sny tellow member's connection with cords.

As a matter of fact we have athletes and strong men—men fed on Prophet seldom resign. The membership is limited and usually passes from father to son. Condidates are passed upon with care by a secret committee and the important qualifications are personal quality and buisness or professional etanding.

Upon the night of the pageant each member, as he is assigned to duty, loses his personality and becomes a number. As such he remains un til the coremonies are over, his name not once being spoken. Invitations to the Veiled Prophet's ball are highly prized by the recipients.

The Veiled Prophet event, including the twenty-odd floats and the ball represents an expenditure each year of about $50,000.

The crowing of the queen is the psgeant's brilliant climax. The queen invariably is one of the young and besutiful society girls of the city. With ber maids of honor she meets the prophet at his throne in the ball room, There her 'royal master' proclaims her his queen by placing on her head a jeweled crown. The coronation is followed by a grand march, led by the Veiled Proph-EPI COPAL HIGH SCHOOL et and his queen, his retinue and their queen herself remains in ignorance of the identity of the Veiled Prophet. He and his misked followers one by one fade away, and exchanging their weird costumes for evening dress regain their personality and re-appear on the dance loor. Of course, there are the wise one who boast of knowing the identity of the prophet, and of course their statements can be neither proven or disproven.

> HUNG ON TO BURGLAR, A prisoner who gave his name as Christian Christianson, 30 years old, had the impressions of many bumps on him when arraigned in court in Brooklyn yesterday, charged with attempting to surgler ze the spartment of Mrs. Maria McGoldrick in that city. When Mrs. McGoldrick went home, Wednesday night she met a man com-ing out of her spartments "Good even-ing," he said lifting his bat and attempting to pass her. Her reply was a scream for she thought he was a burglar. Next she grabbed him by the coat collar and held on while he went with much expedition down three flights of stairs and brough the hallway to the street.

Mrs. McGoldrick screamed at every bump, which meant many screams. the front door the man gave a sudden wrench and managed to get away from Mrs. McGoldrick's good right hand. He rau. So did she, So did Policeman Cornelius Dwyer. After a chase of six blocks Dwyer arrested the man. Lieutenant Brady asked the prisoner how long he had been out of jail. Christianson said he had never been in. Brady differed. The upshot was that Brady wormed a confession out of the man that he had served about a year for attempted burgiary, and that he was bent on robbery in Mrs. McGoldrick's flat. He had 10 skeleton keys in his
